Geeyahn's Story

Geeyahn was a healthy and active 22-year-old when she suddenly developed muscle weakness and numbness in her legs. Within a few days, the weakness spread to her arms and chest, and she was unable to walk or breathe on her own. Geeyahn was diagnosed with GBS, a rare autoimmune disorder that attacks the nervous system.

GBS can be a devastating disease, and Geeyahn's case was particularly severe. She was paralyzed from the neck down and had to be intubated and placed on a ventilator. For weeks, Geeyahn lay in a hospital bed, unable to move or speak. She was completely dependent on others for her care.

But Geeyahn never gave up hope. She fought hard to regain her strength and mobility. With the help of her family, friends, and medical team, Geeyahn slowly began to make progress. After months of rehabilitation, she was able to walk and breathe on her own again.
